SATURDAY EVENING, MARCH 7, 1903.

A Japanese Hygienie Bath. In hygienic matters the Japanese have everywhere a habit which may have a lesson for us. In their nightly bath and morning wash the water is never cold, never warm, but always as hot as it can be borne. To foreigners this habit seems very surprising, but the most inveterate Englishman, if he stays in the country long enough, abau-dons his cold tub in its favor.

The cold taking which, it is suspected, must follow it is not found to occur if the water has been hot enough. This If the water has been hot enough. This heat is maintained by a little furnace beneath the bath. In the bath the bather qr bathers take a prolonged soaking, the washing proper being done on the bathroom floor; then follow a second and final soaking, drying with towel and a lounge in bathing wrapper. This habit seems to promote softness and suppleness of the skin and by persons inclined to rheumatism is soon found to be altogether preferable to the cold bath in every particular. The poorest of the Japanese hear of a cold bath with amazement and would be sure the man who used it must be a

Custom house men have sometimes made other captures besides those of contraband goods. A man who had ef-fected a heavy jewelry robbery in a seaport town was retreating with his plunder, and, having deposited it in a boat, he rowed himself across the har-bor to a timber wharf, landed and, putting the sack across his shoulders, was making off, when a revenue officer, who had been dozing among the tim-ber, roused by the noise, came out and stopped him and asked what he had got in the sack. He quickly replied: "You are welcome to look. I'll go on board and fetch the other." And off the went, and, as may be imagined, he did not turn up again, as no other sack existed. The officer on opening the bag was rather astonished to find it full of watches and spoons instead of a few hundred cigars, such as sailors some

Stopped Voting For Daniel.

A funny story is told about an old time doctor who, writing a letter, ask-ed a judge, "Judge, isn't e-q-u-1 the way to spell equinomical?"
"Yes, I think it is," said the judge,
"but here's Webster's Dictionary. It can soon tell you."

In Spain and Portugal it is somewhat extensively cultivated and is peeled for the first time when from ten to twenty years old. The first stripping is not valuable and is used in the old world principally for tanning. The bark grows better after each successive peeling, which is done at intervals of from eight to twelve years. The season for stripping in Europe is during July and August.

Brougham, while practicing at the bar, once tried the experiment of mag-nettzing an adverse witness giving evi-dence and succeeded in a remarkable manner without speaking a word. Seating himself immediately before the witness, he fixed him with his eye till the poor man blushed, stammered and finally collapsed in nervous confusion, probably leaving his most important evidence unsaid.

"If you are a suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."
